Volunteer Oral History Release Form

The following interview will be used for the production of an oral history project on Mote Marine Laboratory and Aquarium Volunteers entitled "Coastal Commitment: An Oral History of Volunteers at Mote Marine Laboratory and Aquarium." This project is coordinated by the Volunteer Office and the Arthur Vining Davis Library & Archives. As a Mote volunteer, your interview and the recounting of your experience constitutes unique and original material in which you own copyright. By participating in this interview, I, [the interviewee], consent to having my interview recorded, transcribed, and published. This includes having my interview physically stored in the Mote Archives and digitally accessible through the library’s online repository.

All parties of this interview, recorded on [date], agree to the terms above. If you, the interviewee, would like to add any restrictions to the use of your speech, photographs, or videotaped footage taken during this interview, please note these restrictions below:
